a time . . .

... of work and play and change.
It is a time of growing young men and women,
a time of maturing social relationships,
a time of setting serious goals.
The many-sided high school experience cannot be adequately summed up in any single expression.
Its four years encompass class time, around which almost all other times revolve,
study time,
social time,
and time heedlessly and blissfully wasted!
The one phrase that best typifies the high school years is "a time of change."
The development from freshman to senior is a great one—and it appears even greater to those at either extreme.
A freshman class enters the school and a senior class departs, giving the student body
a false changelessness, but the individual's change is marked.
While the members of this class of 1961 were here, they changed,
and the school changed with them.
Our purpose in the 1961 Galleon is to preserve an impression of these times as we have known them.
On these pages,
the giant hands of time pause to record a memory for those who participated and for those who are to follow.

Donna -

Dedication

A quiet man of calm dignity, Mr. Leroy Jillson has combined the qualities of skillful teaching and an understanding nature, making him one of the best-liked and most capable teachers at Newport Harbor High School.

As head of the Social Studies Department for the past three years, he has guided a program for 19 teachers of nearly seventy social study classes and twelve driver-training classes, but the number of students, directly and indirectly, who have felt his influence can hardly be estimated.

Born in Los Angeles, Mr. Jillson lived most of his early years in Colton. His family moved to the Panama Canal Zone where he graduated from high school. When he returned to the United States, attended San Bernardino Junior College, the University of Redlands, San Jose State College, and received a master's degree from Stanford University.

Before joining the Newport Harbor High School Staff in 1955, he taught at Whittier. In addition to heading the largest department in our school, Mr. Jillson has found time to sponsor the International Relations Club and has assisted Mr. Dwight Dorman as senior class advisor.

Outside of school, Mr. Jillson enjoys tennis, fishing, and camping; pleasures he shares with his wife, Carolyn, and their two children.

For his devotion and patience in furthering the education of so many students, we proudly dedicate the 1961 Yearbook to Mr. Leroy Jillson.

ADMINISTRATION

Principal

High School is a time—a time of hopes and a time of fears, a time of work and a time of play; a time of planning and a time of impulse; a time of exultation and a time of despair, a time of love and a time of hate; and as you grow older a time seen in retrospect as the best time in your life!

Joseph Hamblet
PRINCIPAL

Mr. Joseph Hamblet began his career here in 1931, one year after Harbor was founded. After a decade of teaching science and mathematics at Harbor he became school Vice-Principal, a quite different office from that of today's Vice-Principals. He served as Vice-Principal for thirteen years and in 1955 gained the Principalship. He has, ever since, been fulfilling the duties of the office with great competence.

and Superintendent

The Board of Trustees, whose five members fulfill the necessary task of serving as an advisory board to the school district, represent the citizens of the Newport Harbor area. This year, among other things, they have supervised plans for a third high school in Corona del Mar and are considering a fourth to meet the demands of the ever-growing and changing Newport Beach-Costa Mesa Communities.

DR. EDWARD MILUM
President

MR. DONALD DUNGAN

"A school remains only a building, until the people are added; then it becomes a school."

These words reflect greatly the philosophy of our superintendent of schools, Mr. Max Russell. It is this attitude which enables him to provide the leadership necessary to head the Newport Harbor High School District.

Since his acceptance of the position in the spring of 1958, Mr. Russell has carried on effectively in the handling and planning of high schools in the district. To fulfill his duties, he has drawn upon his invaluable experience as a teacher of all the eight lower grades, a principal of two different high schools, and an assistant superintendent of schools at the San Mateo Union High School District.

Blending a warm personality with an efficient business sense, our superintendent has performed the duties of his post in a way which has made him both well liked and honored among all who have had an association with him.

MR. ROY McCARDLE

MRS. ZOE BARLOW

MR. EARL PETERSON

Our Vice-Principals

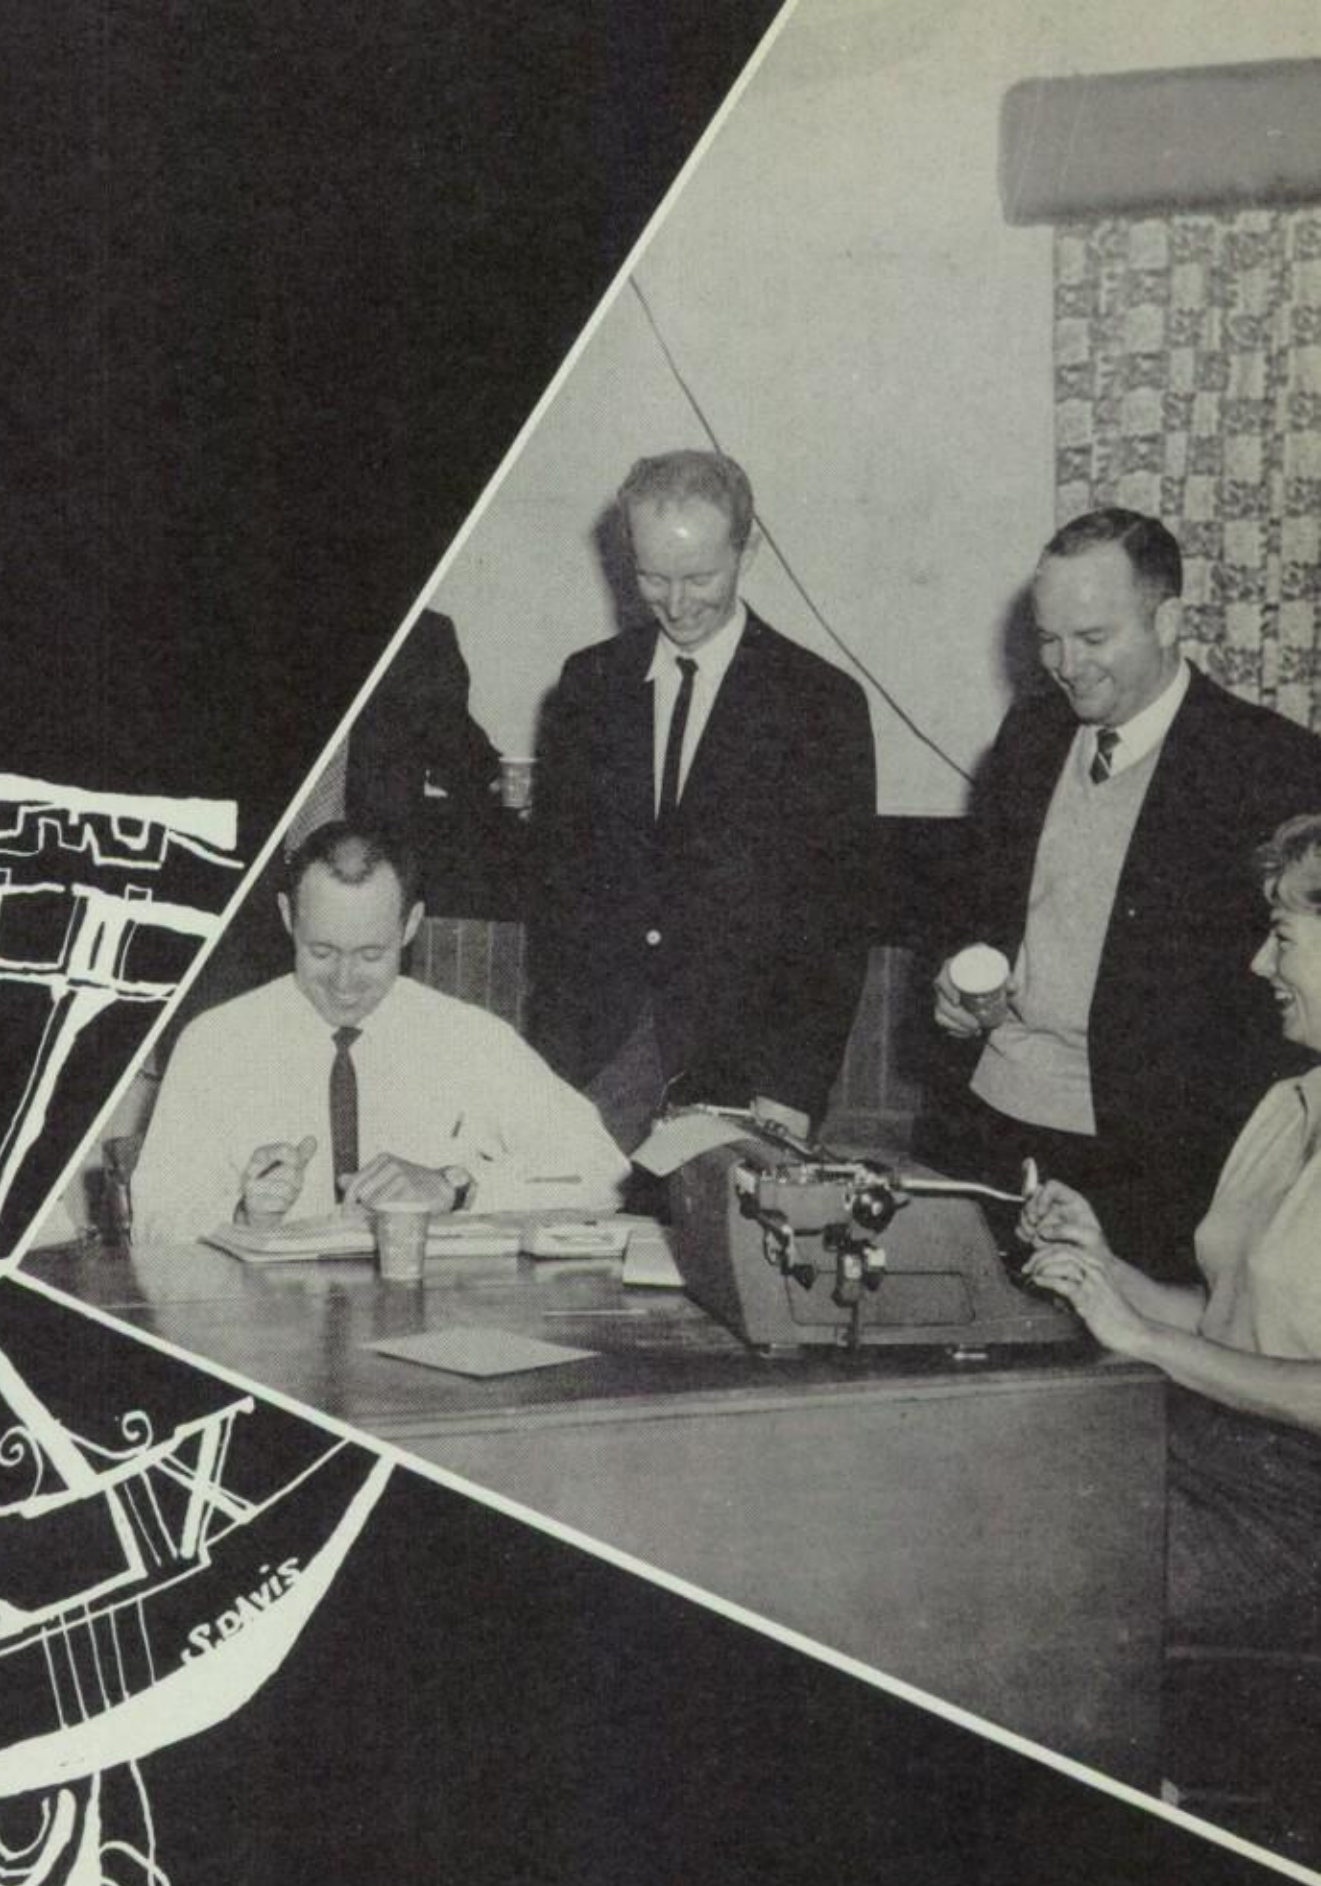

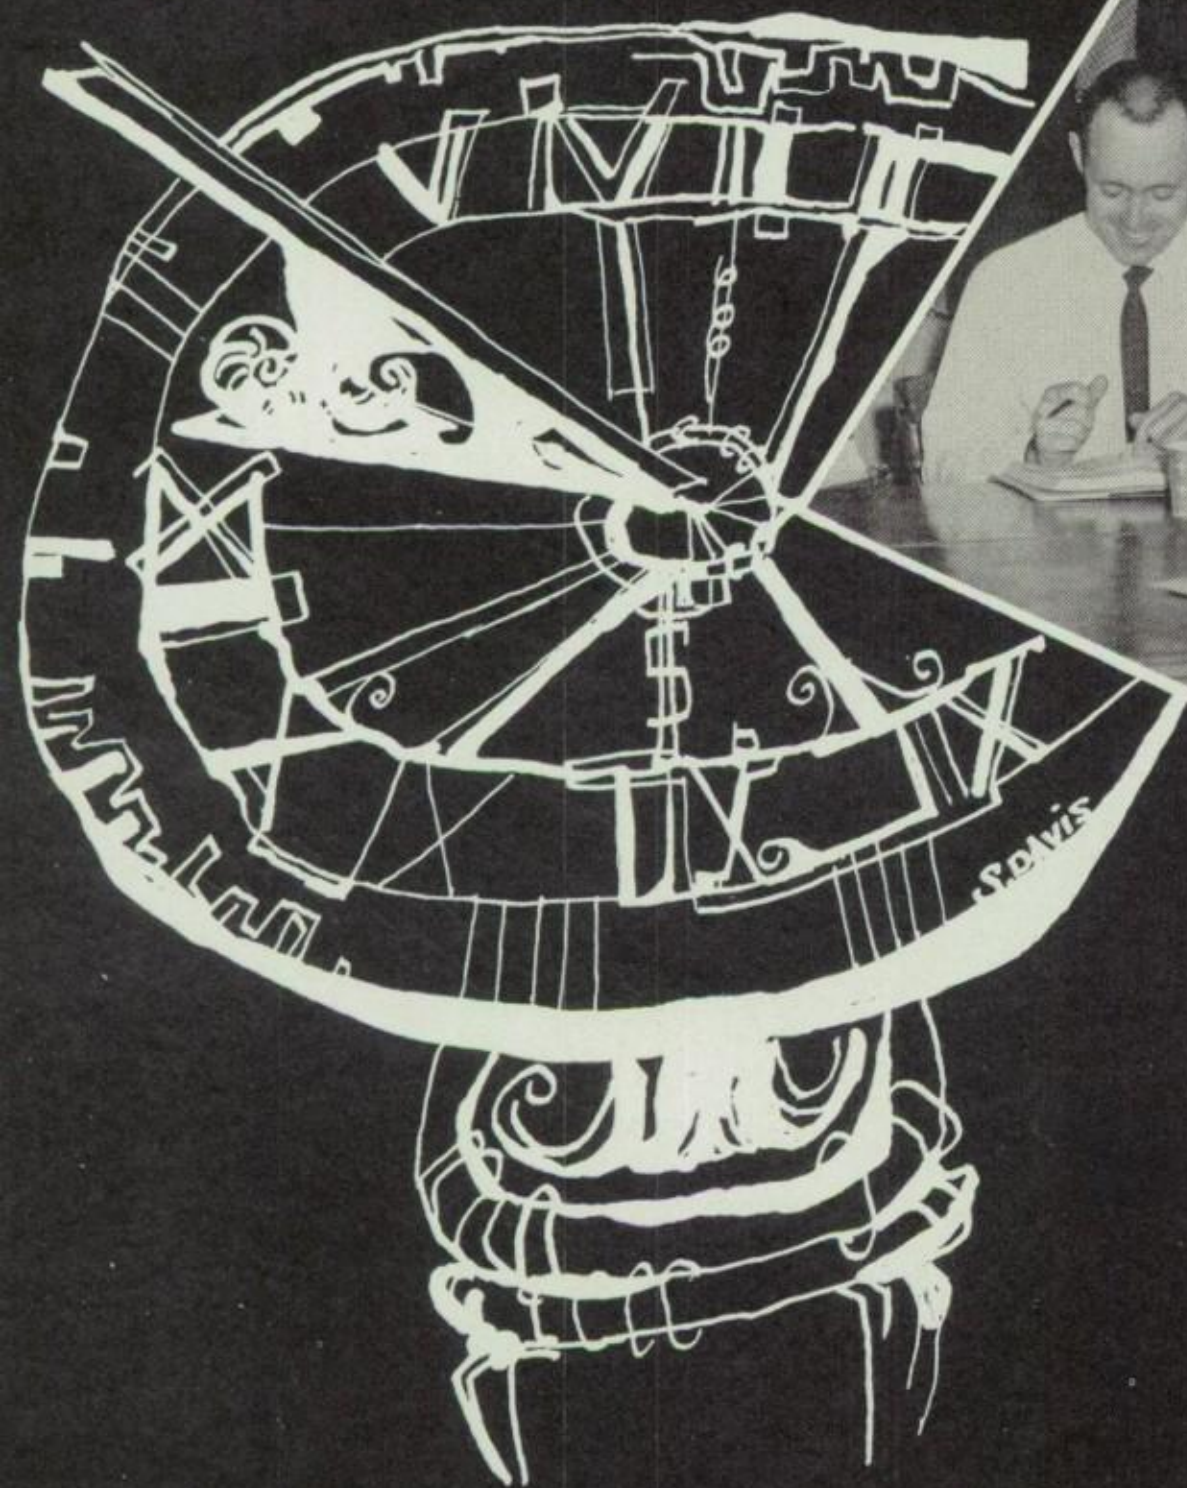

Famous for his friendly smile and warm voice, Mr. Robert Magnusson, Vice-Principal, has shown a firm hand in the guidance, counseling and discipline of Harbor's students. He is also available for assistance in any problems concerning the faculty, and each new semester finds him arranging class schedules.

Mr. Magnusson graduated from Whittier College and went from there to spend eight years as an English and social studies teacher. This experience with an additional three years as a counselor certainly qualifies him as an excellent vice-principal.

Always ready with guidance, counsel, or an encouraging smile, is Mrs. Fay Harbison, Vice-Principal. Mrs. Harbison manages a variety of duties, including those pertaining to scholarship. She is also advisor to the P.T.A.

A graduate of the University of Arizona, Mrs. Harbison taught Spanish in that state for two years. She came to Newport to become Dean of Girls and, in 1957, was appointed vice-principal. She also acts as an invaluable advisor to Girls' League and helps many seniors to apply and qualify for scholarships.

GALLEY AND CAFETERIA STAFF

The task of preparing lunches for the students of a school the size of Harbor High—over 2,400—is indeed large. The cooking staff of both the Galley and the Cafeteria have answered to the challenge with their imaginative and delicious meals. Each meal is planned so as to provide the utmost in nutritional value by the head of the group, Mrs. Elva Jennings.

CUSTODIANS AND BUS DRIVERS

The responsibility for keeping Newport Harbor High School clean and in working order rests with the custodians, who also serve as the school's bus drivers. Under the able direction of Mr. Orville Lloyd, head custodian, the janitorial staff of our school not only concerns itself with the cleaning of the school, but also with the plumbing, plastering, minor repairs, and electrical maintenance. This staff works hard all year long to keep Harbor in efficient running order.

CLASSES

Student Body President, Jeff Glass, is the first to be elected to this office under the new Student Body constitution. In the course of performing his duties, he presided over the Executive Council, appointed sub-committees (such as the By-Laws Committee), and supervised the work of the committee chairman. Jeff has been a member of the Board of Control, in his sophomore year, and the President of his Junior Class. He lettered in junior varsity basketball in his first two years, and varsity football in his junior and senior years. Last summer, he took a trip to Japan under the auspices of the Navy League. Jeff is planning to study dentistry at Stanford University.

Those who head our Student Court Judges Mike Estey and Ken Doesburg jointly head two student court teams of twenty-five members each, whose duties are to survey the school campus for neatness after both lunch periods. The teams' ratings determine whether or not Friday will be declared a short school day. The capable leadership of Mike and Ken has strengthened the student court system of Harbor High.

The purpose of the California Association of Student Councils is to discuss and solve common school problems and to promote better relationships between schools. This is done through the conferences that are held within the school year. As this year's C. A. S. C. representative, Don Roberson went to these conventions and appointed a committee to accompany him.

Don is also president of the Key Club, a member of the Hi Tars, co-captain of Varsity Football, and a participant in track. He wants to attend Stanford or Occidental and major in education.

Elected to the Student Body Vice-presidency after only one year at Harbor, Bob Miles has proven that popularity is not necessarily a matter of long association. Bob, who came to Harbor at the beginning of his junior year, has done an excellent job of filling his office. His work has included serving as president of Student Council, holding the office of vice-president of the Executive Council, leading the flag salute every morning, and assisting the Student Body President.

Bob is very interested in sports and played football in his junior year. Although he is an enthusiast of practically every sport, his main interests are surfing and skiing.

student body government

Recording the minutes for all Executive Council meetings, corresponding with other schools, and attending various committee meetings are Sue Sibley's more important duties as Student Body Secretary.

Sue has been very active in government in her four years at Harbor. She was Freshman Representative to the Executive Council, a member of Student Court as a sophomore, and Junior Class Secretary. She was also in Aqua Show her freshman year and Dance Productions her sophomore and junior years.

Tri Sigma and the Drama Assembly have been her activities this year.

Lauren Anderson, our Student Body Treasurer, was well qualified for his position by his experience as officer in the Key Club. In addition to his talent in student body government, he has proved to be a good athlete in water polo and swimming.

An excellent artist, Lauren has done work for many school projects, such as the "Flag" for "The Beacon", Harbor High's newspaper. Lauren, following a college preparatory course, plans to become an industrial designer. He will ultimately study art in Spain after attending Orange Coast College.

PENNI ADAMS
Treasurer

The seniors of 1961 should look back and remember the highlights of their four years at Harbor High.

In our freshman year, we were welcomed at the "Hello Hop", and came to know the school campus and traditions.

The sophomore year brought Costa Mesa High School and a friendly rivalry. Clubs and classes now bid for equal attention.

In our junior year came the Junior Work Day, full-time counselors and the American Field Service Book Store.

The senior year brought a dance during lunch hour, new buildings for Music and Mechanical Drawing, the Prom, Senior Ditch Day, and the annual Awards Banquet, all pointing to the final goal—commencement exercises on graduation day, when we will leave Harbor and take with us its teachings and standards.

1. Sally seems to derive an extra thrill while outing with a friend.
2. A friendly gathering of the clan.
3. Dudley and Diane are just home folks.
4. "He has returned," says Jim. Jim advocates a return to nature.
5. Ken has never outgrown his need for milk.
6. Chet models the latest in beach wear for the new year.

7. Sherry and Donna on their way back from a game.
8. Caryl and Sue seem to have an antipathy for photographers.
9. Barbara Lilly, and a philosophy of life.
10. Mrs. Harbison confers with her secretary, Jeanne Hughes.
11. Pat Schultz feels that life is just a bore.
12. "Bottoms up," Pam laughs.

1. Bill enjoys intellectual freedom.
2. Everyone loosens up at a party - note Diane with open arms.
3. Sue caught in the "Cha" of her Cha-Cha-Cha.
4. Don't say it Lori!
5. Jeff seems lost in thought as friends give him a concert.
6. Grant, Fred, and Joe on the Pepsodent Toboggan Team.
7. "A winning smile is the secret of my success," says Pam.
8. Sandy and Rita starting their homeward journey.
9. Jim and Mike perform a delicate operation.
10. Marty and Carol look a little tired after a weekend of fun?
11. Mike, again, out for devil knows what!
12. Kathy and Jackie find life amusing.
13. "Help send this orphan to camp," pleads Sandy Davis.
14. Burros and Donna always get along well.
15. Diane and Robin almost didn't catch the photographer.

"At last—a practical use for cream pies."

"And the ref called that fair!" exclaims Sandy.

Campus

"Me Man, you woman," says Terry to Chris.

"Hey, they're good for eating too," says Steve to Kay.

Characters

Five campus beauties enhanced the annual homecoming activities. Queen Candy Riddell and her court, Barbara Hughes (Junior Princess), Pamela Zander (Senior Princess), Keren Moore (Sophomore Princess), and Lynn Russell (Freshman Princess), reigned over the festivities. Candy and her princesses were chosen in a popular vote by the boys on the football teams.

Homecoming

The Homecoming Dance, greatly enjoyed by all, was held in the girls gym. Couples danced to the music of a band. . .

Homecoming Queen Candis Riddell, a Harbor senior, headed her court with regal splendor.

UNIFORM COURT

Black or navy skirts with blouses, or colored sweaters and dickies constitute the prescribed dress for all Harbor High girls. This traditional uniform is regulated by the Uniform Court, under the capable direction of Sue Griffin. Her assistants are Liz Traphagen and Caryl Jordan. Offenders of the uniform regulation are summoned by approved uniform checkers and tried by the court.

Every girl at Harbor High is eligible to join the Girls' League and to participate in its various activities. Throughout the year, league committees have had a fashion show, a "Sadie Hawkins" dance, and a mother and daughter tea. For the first time they have given awards to deserving Harbor girls who have shown special talent in some field. The cabinet, which is the governing body, is composed of President, Candy Riddell, who is assisted by a vice-president, a secretary, a treasurer, an historian, and one representative from each of the four classes. The cabinet appoints the different committees and their directors.

In addition to her other activities as Zonta Girl of the Month, head song-leader, and Homecoming Queen, Candy Riddell, has also organized many Girls' League activities as its President. After graduating from Harbor, she plans to attend the University of California where she will major in education.

Four student body officers, a CASC representative, two student court judges, and a girl and boy representative from each class make up the Executive Council. Fifteen students in all, with the advice and guidance of Mr. John Rose, helped govern the school.

The council meets twice each month to set up the affairs of the association, establish rules for the granting of awards, grant recognition to various student organizations, approve the by-laws of all subordinate organizations, and enact other legislation that becomes necessary.

Headed by Mike Estey and Ken Doesburg, the Student Court teams are well known to most students as the keeper of the short Friday. It is their job, among other things, to rate the condition of the grounds. The court is now giving more warnings to replace the previous system of trials. The number of short Fridays this year has shown how effective the court has been.

Concerning plant and animal life

Biology Club members were able to indulge their interest in the biological sciences, through a series of field trips and vocational speakers on careers of interest to the members. During the year, the club's visits included the La Brea Tar Pits, San Diego Zoo, Los Angeles County Museum, and several bird sanctuaries. The Biology Club is affiliated with the Nature Conservancy, an organization devoted to protection of our natural resources.

All the world is their bull session. That's how the members of Harbor High's Radio Club feel. Under the direction of shop and electronics teacher, Mr. Edward Parsons, the club operates radio station WA6FSR, which transmits on 600 watts of power. In addition to the radio station, the boys also help each other with license examinations, have formal talks, and experiment with new techniques in radio transmission and receiving.

Of all our special interest clubs, the Engineering Club is probably the most distinguished. All science and mathematics students are eligible to join. The club's sponsors, Mr. John Williams and Mr. Donald Simpson, find their work with students interesting. Extreme diversity was shown by the Sailing Club in its activities. The club held bay and ocean races on something of a monthly basis, occasional parties, and a chaotic Shark Island Race and Picnic, one of the high-lights of the year. This day included a race from Lido Isle Clubhouse to Shark Island, a Coca-Cola hunt, and the eventual dunking of the majority of members. During Christmas vacation, the club spent one evening following the "floating Christmas tree" about Newport Harbor, and singing carols. Mr. Paul Lawhorn, the advisor, was as deeply involved in these activities as any of the members.

Since their separation from the Spanish Honor Society last year, the Spanish Club has gone off on its own to provide an extra curricular activity for Spanish students. They hold regular meetings featuring guest speakers and other entertainment provided by the Spanish Honor Society. Once a year they have their annual excursion to Padua Hills.

France, its language, people, and customs, was examined by the French Club. Members were treated to speakers, movies, discussions, and other activities calculated to improve the members' grasp of French. The club's advisor was Mrs. Mary Lee Richmond.

In its second year, the Spanish Honor Society was able to expand its membership as it tightened entrance requirements. In order to qualify, students must have earned three consecutive "A's" in Spanish. For the first time, meetings were held completely in Spanish. The club had a variety of activities: a guest speaker from Equador addressed the group, the traditional trip to Padua Hills, with the Spanish Club was taken, and members participated in the competitive National Spanish Tests. These and other activities were supervised by the sponsor, Mrs. Ruth LeLievre.

Many activities were enjoyed by Tau Rho Kappa, the Future Teachers Club. Informal talks by Harbor faculty members and other guest speakers informed members on such subjects as student life in European schools, and teacher training programs at college. The club visited Horace Ensign School, a few members at a time, in November. A panel discussion followed this series of visits.

During December, members attended the Eighth Annual Future Teacher Conference at the University of Southern California. These and other activities were planned by the officers and advisors, Mr. Webster Jones and Mrs. Louise Griesser.

Two evenings every month, the International Relations Club met to discuss such issues and topics as President Kennedy's first four months in office, Cuba and Castro, and racial integration problems in the United States. The club also held an election night party at the home of Jann Bowman. Working with the officers to plan these activities were the advisors, Mr. Leroy Jillson and Mr. Edward Johnson.

The American Field Service main purpose is to raise money to assist in sending two Harbor students abroad. Among its other duties are making our exchange students feel at home in Newport and maintaining the AFS bookstore for students which was started last year and continued with great success. Mr. Gillis acts as the club's advisor.

Marian Lovink and Peter Hohl are this year's American Field Service Exchange Students from Europe. Marian comes from Belgium, while Peter hails from Switzerland. Peter's main interests lie in reading and his scholarly approach is revealed by his reading material. Marian who prefers the outdoors, likes horseback riding. Both enjoy tennis. Marian hopes to find a job working in the United Nations as an interpreter of Spanish and English. Peter intends to continue studying at a European University.

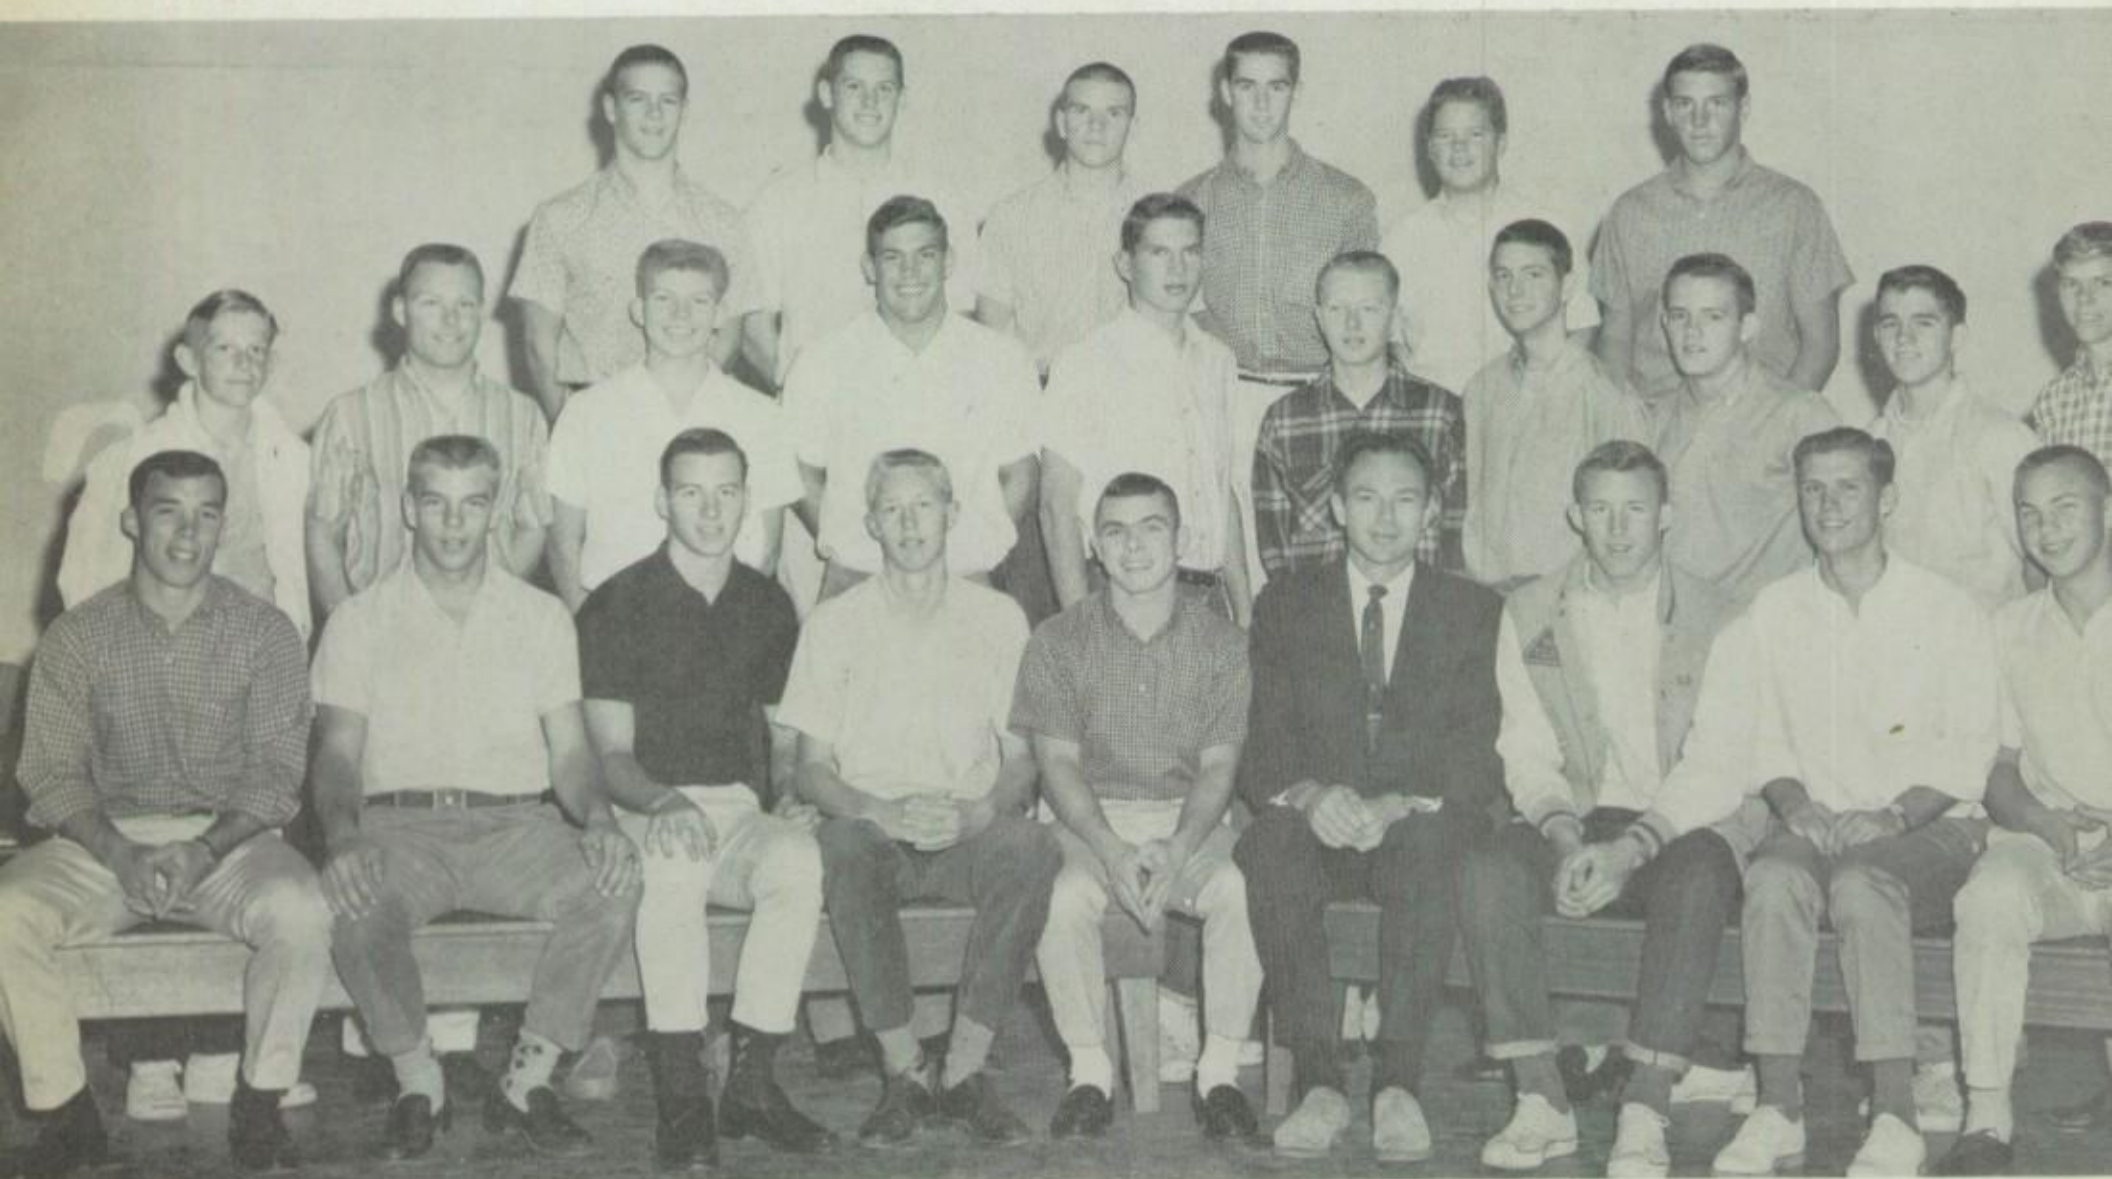

KEY CLUB OFFICERS:

Jim Hicks, Treasurer; Gary Galusha, Vice-President; Don Roberson, President; Lauren Anderson, Historian; Rusty Packard, Sgt. at Arms; John Hughes, Secretary.

Service to the school and the community are the main goals of Harbor High's Key Club. The club is under the sponsorship of Mr. Malcom Buchanan, and is affiliated with Kiwanis International. One of their activities is the annual "Dollar for Scholar" drive. However, their main source of income is the sale of basketball programs. During this year, the members attended the Western District Key Club Convention in Sacramento. Highlight of the year was the "Leprechaun Leap" in March.

Scholastic excellence is the watchword of Harbor High's California Scholarship Federation. A total of 10 points, 5 of which must be scholastic subjects, are required for membership. That means at least 3 A's and a B. Advisor Martha Dickman states that the prime purpose of the group is to provide interesting and informative extra-curricular activities for serious students. One such activity is the excursion to the Civic Light Opera in Los Angeles, which the group takes once each year.

Doing their part in helping new students, the Harbor Hi Club, with sponsor Mrs. Kathryn Jordan, puts in a full time job. Four students, two boys and two girls, from each class, are selected and they, along with the president Pete Michaud and vice-president Taffy Meyers, show new students around campus and answer any questions they might have. At the end of each month, a party is held for the new students and they meet with their friends to solve any of their problems. Assistant Sponsor, Mr. William Cue, reported that as many as seventy-eight students have deluged The Welcoming Committee in one month.

Probably highest on the list of community service organizations at Harbor High is the TAP, or the Teenagers Against Polio. Harbor's nurse, Mrs. Margaret May, is the club's sponsor. To start off their fund-raising campaign, they held a successful dance, the Black Kat Kaper, on Friday the 13th of January and disproved an old superstition. In later January, they sponsored the successful Salk Polio Clinic, which was held during both lunches and gave students an opportunity to protect themselves against the disease. In February, Mrs. May and Co-Chairman Martha Traphagen, discussed polio and TAP on Radio K-EZY for the "March of Dimes Show". They have also provided movies and informative talks on the subject of polio and its prevention to interested students. The TAP of Newport Harbor High was the first club of its kind organized.

In the unusual and challenging position of Page Two Editor, with no previous journalism experience, Nancy Smith proved her capability in laying out the page, assigning copy, writing articles, copyreading, and composing news heads.

Betsy Saunders, Editor-in-Chief of The Beacon, was first page editor in the fall semester and moved up to general advisor in the second. In addition to writing "From the Bridge", she guided the editors and cheerfully helped the reporters. Betsy received a Girls' League Spotlight Award for her excellent work in publications, and was chosen the February Zonta Girl of the Month.

The

Popularity well qualified Sandy Anderson as Page Three Editor. Sandy's job required her to cover all club functions, teacher and student features, and all of the extra-curricular activities.

For his work as Sports Editor, Bill Twist won two honorable mentions at the University of Southern California Journalism Day. He further proved his outstanding ability by bringing top honors to The Beacon for the best sport page among all Orange County school papers at Santa Ana College Journalism Conference.

PHOTOGRAPHERS:

Photographers, Duke Baltz and Randy Reddick, covered every school event with flash bulbs and camera.

The object of The Beacon has long been to gather all important school news and bring it to the students of Harbor High. A bi-weekly publication, the newspaper is distributed during both lunches. A prize-winning school paper, The Beacon was guided to a second place award at the Southern California Journalism Contest by its advisor, Mr. Donald Ulander, shown here with Judy Clasen, Business Manager.

Larry Keele, Gay Dodson, Wendy Sayers, and Ann Broering, class section editor, assembled the class pages, a tedious and time-consuming task.

Sue Henderson, next year's editor, with John Green, Chris Neal, and yearbook advisor, David Curtis, produced the imposing mass of copy necessary to the yearbook.

The publication, put together during several weeks of intensive reading and selection, contained the best stories, poems, essays and miscellaneous material produced by Harbor students over the past year. The project was supervised by Mr. Robert Wood.

Varsity Football

Explosive, dynamic, and spirited was the 1960 varsity football team. The squad fought its way to a successful season for the first time since 1955, when they were led by ex-tar tutor Ralph Irwin.

This year's gridmen were guided by new head coach, Wayne Hughes, who moved up from the Bee ranks after two consecutive championships.

The many memorable highlights, which will always be remembered, included our first two victories brought home by the "Golden Toe" of Bob Payne; Don Roberson's 80-yard jaunt with a minute and twenty six seconds on the scoreboard in the victory over Excelsior; Bob Crissell's 100-yard "up the middle touchdown," and the unforgettable defensive struggle with powerful Huntington Beach Oiler's that ended in a tie.

Laden with a predominately senior team, the Tar Eleven was led by such standouts as Don Roberson, whose five-fold honors included, Co-Captain of the team, Most Valuable Player, All Sunset League, All-County, and Lions Club Player of the Year. Jim Hicks, Co-Captain, All League, All County. Bob Crisell, All League, and Don Davis, an All County Selection.

In quest of defending their league championship for the third consecutive year, the 1960 Tarbabe edition under new Bee Coach Bill Straw fell short of their initial goal. Newport lost close tilts to Anaheim High and Western High which proved to be the final margin. Varsity and Junior Varsity Cagers

After an outstanding season in 1959, the 1960 edition of varsity hoopster proved to be very frustrating. Although heavily laden with talent and the county sports scribes top team rating the squad had its ups and downs. The team found themselves losing too many outclassed squads, but rose many times to defeat top circuit rivals.

Even though it proved controversial as to whether the season was successful, head coach Emil Neeme calmed all rumors by stating that he was out to build character as well as good citizens, and with this accomplishment no season could be called unsuccessful.

Under the coaching of Jerry Fowles, the Junior Varsity squad had a slow beginning but blossomed to many memorable occasions. Although injuries plagued the team, the twosome of Dave Rosso and Dennis Carpenter became two of the best back court men in the league, which many teams feared.

Banquet awards went to Bill Twist, "Most Valuable," Jim Hicks, "Most Improved," and Russ Rapp, Team Captain in the varsity division. Junior Varsity awards went to Dennis Carpenter, "Most Valuable," and Dave Rosso, Team Captain.

Bee Hoopsters

After losing all the top team players from last year's championship squad, the defense of their title looked rather dismal. Pre-season games also proved very disappointing, and with the beginning of the league, all indications were toward a long season. Fighting back with desire and spirit, the squad brought back the league trophy for the second consecutive year. Coach Dan Rogers praised his team as real hustlers and the desire to win as the main reason for such an outstanding season.

In the varsity division, outstanding members included Vince Sweetser, Tim Rysdale, and Tom Barnum.

Junior varsity standouts were Mike Estey, Pete Yould, Peter Hohl, and Ron Van Sickle.

Introduced to Harbor as the school's twenty-first official representing team, the wrestling squads fared well as it participated on a free lance schedule. Compiling an outstanding seven wins and one loss, 8 in dual matches, the Tar grapplers established themselves as a foe to be reckoned with next season. Under the coaching of Coach Bill Hanke, "grunt and groan" standouts included John Guyer, Harbor's only C.I.F. qualifier, Pete Genderon, Mike Pekin, and Larry Jabbins.

Varsity Track

As usual, Newport's varsity track team produced its powered depth squad. After a slow beginning which saw the team lose and tie their first two league encounters, the Tar machine rolled over such stable league rivals as Fullerton, Santa Ana, and Garden Grove.

Highlights of this year were the participation in the Santa Ana Relays, Mt. Sac Relays, Compton Cup, and the Bellflower National Record Relays.

Outstanding members of this year's squad were Steve Johnson, who set a new school record in the high-hurdles at 15 flat. Previous standard stood at 15.1 by ex-Tar Ron Stomp.

Ray Rothenberger's vault of 12' 5 3/4" in the pole-vault and outstanding sprint clockings by Bob Crissel, Bob Payne, and Ron Buchanan, highlighted the season.

Bee Track

With many exceptional team members, the Bee squad romped over many league foes. Outstanding trackmen included Mike Hodgson in the shot-put, Meers Rork in the 660, Dan Arnold in the sprints and Keith Allen in the hurdles. The squad, as a whole, finished with a very impressive 5-2 Sunset League Dual Meet record.

Under the direction of Head Coach Edward Newland, the water polo team had many varied and exciting experiences in their second year of competition.

Highlight of the season was the team's upset victory over a previously undefeated Santa Ana High squad. Leading polo men were Jim Adams, high scorer, with Spencer Richardson, and Tom Jewell.

In the Bee division the squad got off to a slow start but finished high enough to enter the C.I.F. playoffs.

The Cee squad had a very successful season, and won the league championship. They also participated in the C.I.F. playoffs.

Head coach Andy Smith shares Tar nine's first division place

All-Sunset League candidate Robert Liljenwall shows his power at the plate

Engaged in one of the more colorful Sunset League races in years, Newport's Tar nine is presently holding down a tie for second place with Fullerton high at six wins and four losses. These two teams are one game behind Anaheim and Western. Coached by Head Coach Andy Smith, the varsity nine has such stand-outs as Robert Lilenjwall, Richard Rison, Russell Rapp, Mike Murphy, Tom Call, William Voss, Harold Vineyard, Ben Queener, Donald Sherman, and Dale Townsend.

Under the directionship of Coach Robert Randall, the Tar junior varsity confronted themselves with many problems. One which played a continual factor was untimely errors.

Donna, I hate to spoil this new page, but I just wanted say good luck and I'll see you again next year.
(Buenos suerte y hasta el año siguiente.)
Larry Keele

Donna,
It's been a ball this year in Daffy. Best of luck always.
I hope we have some classes together next year.

Karen Moore

Donna,
Love ya,
Dyane Wilson

Donna,
I hope to be in some classes with you next year, so sit there, Be good and enjoy your summer vacation while it lasts.
P.S. Let's go surfing
this summer!

May God bless you always!
Love ya,
Cathy

Donna,
I know that by I saying I want to sign this later it sounds like I'm putting it off - but its only because its hard to think of what to write to someone I like so much!

I am so-o-o happy we have become good friends this year, and I know that we will always be. (hope!)

You are a wonderful girl (I really mean it) and you make a wonderful friend!

Donna,
A good pal of mine & hope to see lots of you next year.
- Diana Harris

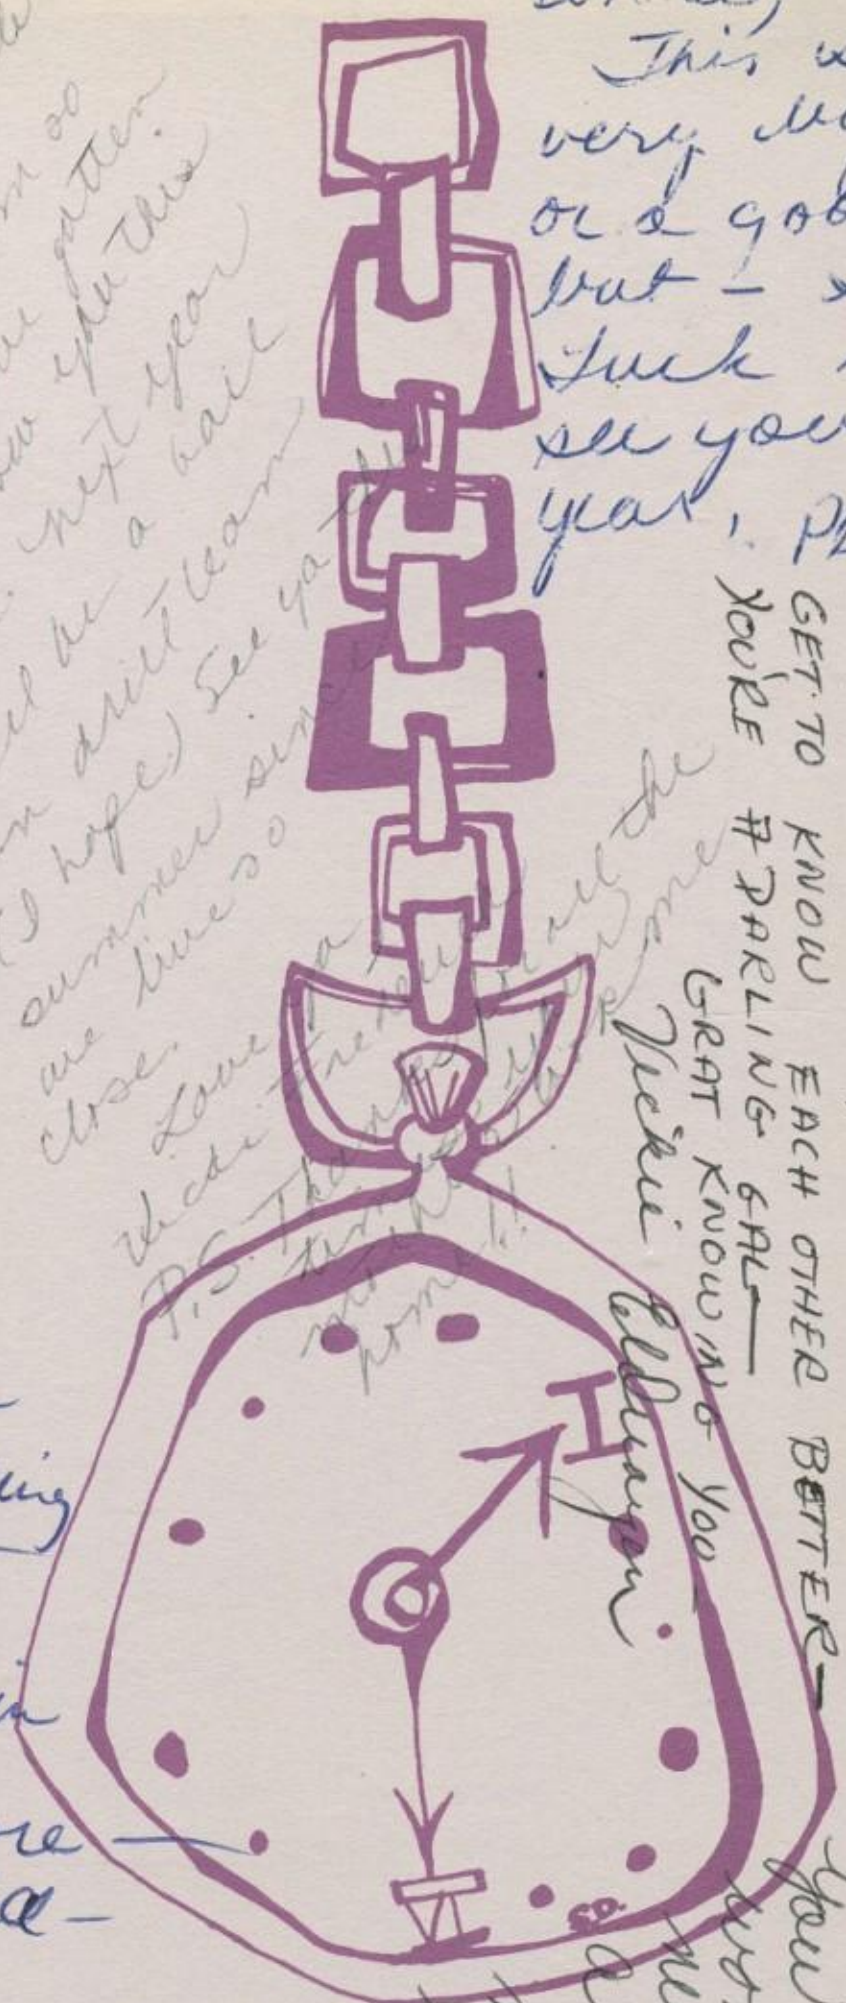

Donna
you're on wheels dell and I'm so glad I've gotten to know you this year. next year
I'll be a hail an drill team
(I hope) See ya
we summer sing close. Love
P.S. The more
I know you the more I love you!

Donna,
This isn't a very big space
or a good pen, but - Good luck and see you next year! P.S. Great

Donna - girl who is a sweet girl who is a love time
with a love time
with a love time

Donna
Sure has been fun ~~goosies~~ bedding around this year - We'll have to take the "A" model out again and ~~for~~ sing our lungs out once more You're a sweet kid - stay that way -

Love'n kisses
Diana Samuel
